Way Hoyt

Way is an arborist of the highest standards. He has been an arborist for many years, teaches arboriculture, is a tree appraiser for government, business and private clients and creates wonderful treasures from the spoils of the trees he removes. Way is a wood turner and accomplished wood craftsman. He owns his own mill to transform his unusual wood into lumber planks, wood turned bowls and accessories. The city purchases wonderful cuts of wood for plaques and recently had a table created for our lobby. Way has been demonstrating his craft at TreeDay for the past 2 years and we hope to see him again at this February's TreeDay.
